

To whom it may concern,

I can heartily recommend Jim Morrison as a conference speaker! He did an excellent job of presenting the keynote address and then speaking at our banquet. He combined pertinent information with humor and personal life experiences to keep his audience attentive and to convey a meaningful message to those in attendance.

It was also a pleasure working with him and arranging to have him as a conference speaker. He is personable, willing to meet as necessary and pays attention to details to insure his presentation meets the needs of the targeted audience. He provided a handout which coincided nicely with the topic he presented and even went "the extra mile" and included our organization's letterhead on his handout.

Jim exhibited flexibility and professionalism in working with our organization and we heard many positive comments from conference attendees following his presentations.

Sincerely,
